Alpha Bank Cyprus Ltd supports the University of Cyprus

As part of its Corporate Social Responsibility Policy and the sensitivity the Alpha Bank Group always displays in matters of History, Science and Culture in general, Alpha Bank Cyprus Ltd has chosen to support the University of Cyprus as a way of showing its support both to the institution itself and to its distinguished students.

In particular, during an event on the occasion of the Celebration of Literacy on the 29th of January 2013 at the University’s ceremony hall, two awards of the utmost importance, both to the Bank and the University, were presented by the Managing Director Mr. George Georgiou and the Dean of the University of Cyprus Mr. Constantinos Christofides.

The award for “Greek Culture”, which is granted for good understanding on the subject of history and archaeology of the Greek world, was awarded by half to Ms. Chrystalla Kanellidou, PhD Candidate of Greek Studies for the Department Byzantine and Modern Greek Studies, for her thesis titled: “The Christian Motif in the poetry and prose of Yiannis Ritsos”, and to Ms. Christina Kaoulla, PhD Candidate of Byzantine Studies for the department of History and Archaeology, for her thesis titled “The marriage of Janus (1398 – 1432) King of Cyprus to Anglesia Visconti Princess of Milan”.

The award for the student with special needs went to Mr. Pantelis Anthimou in recognition of the courage and perseverance he displays, as well as his commendable performance, being faced with more difficulties and challenges than most other students in acquiring his degree.
